XI. LAKES

Stage I:

Lake Vermilion, the site of the Local Amateur Tournament, is a fertile lake that abounds with vegetation and many different types of fishes. Shallow water and lush vegetation provide an excellent habitat for big bass!

Stage II:

Lake Chippewa was once a valley surrounded by mountains and rolling hills until it was dammed and flooded. The man-made and natural structures that were present before the valley was flooded are now the homes of giant, prowling bass.

Stage III:

The Turkey River, the site of the Pro Bass Championship, is a long, slow-moving, meandering river that is controlled by a small flow-dam. This river provides plenty of great bass fishing. Good luck!

Stage IV:

Bluestone Lake, the site of the Big Bass World Championship, holds some of the biggest bass in the country. The diverse vegetation and warm water produce bass that will amaze many anglers. Therefore, technique and lure selection are very important if you want to lure in the lunkers.

XIII. FISHES

Brief descriptions of the eight different types of fishes that are found in BIG BASS WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP with Hank Parker follow:

LARGEMOUTH BASS - A powerful, large and elusive species of black bass that anglers love to catch, the largemouth bass always puts up a good fight and can be very cunning. This fish receives its name because of its large mouth that extends past its eyes.

SMALLMOUTH BASS - Agile in the water and possessing a great deal of strength and intelligence, it is hard to outsmart a smallmouth. Many anglers dream of fighting this fish!

SPOTTED BASS - Named for the rows of small black spots that are found on its lower sides, this species of black bass is not as large as the smallmouth or the largemouth.

BLUEGILL - Preferring highly vegetated lakes and ponds, the bluegill is easily recognized by its compressed body and pointy pectoral fins.

CRAPPIE - A popular and abundant sport fish, the crappie is found in vegetated lakes and ponds.

WALLEYE - Recognizable by its big mouth and sharp teeth, the pointy-faced walleye is a real scrapper that can grow to reach three feet in length.

NORTHERN PIKE - A large, powerful fish that is popular with anglers, the northern pike can reach four feet in length.

CATFISH - Known as a bottom dweller that is easily identified by its cat-like whiskers or barbels on its face, the catfish is common in most U.S. lakes and rivers.

HANK PARKER

Hank Parker is a two-time B.A.S.S. Master's Classic Champion and host of The Nashville Network's popular television series, "Hank Parker's Outdoor Magazine."
